Good

35.51 x 21.49 cm
13.98 x 13.98"

A decorative Regency period, early 19th century bronze and ormolu mantel clock by Baetens of Soho in London. The Fine quality fusee movement of week duration, has a white enamel dial in a drumhead case. The dial is surmounted with a finely cast eagle and is flanked by flaming Greek style gilded urns, supported on turned gilded pillars.

Below the dial is ormolu swaged drapery and an open cartouche depicting gilded figures. The pendulum has a mask of Apollo and in front, on a rectangular base is a recumbent bronze lion. The base is decorated with a raised acanthus motif and the clock is mounted on gilded ball feet.
